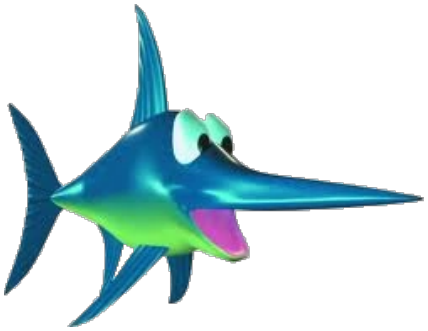
The Donkey Kong Country Board Game

Designed by Justin Patrick, 2011-2018.
Donkey Kong Country series by Nintendo and Rare.



Prepare for a thrilling strategic adventure as you travel across Donkey Kong Country, while competing to collect resources in order to build every single one of the SNES trilogy's 118 levels. You must wisely choose your Kong character, carefully determine when and which of your items and cards to use or drop, bargain with other players, and anticipate upcoming disasters. Thorough knowledge of the games is not necessary (there are no trivia questions, etc.), but it can help a little bit.

The ultimate goal is to reach the finish space, "306% complete." But in order to be able to go to this space, you must build every level, get an "!" on every level by finding its secrets (or asking Cranky where they are), and win each of the 3 K. Rool fights. This guide will attempt to explain the rules of the game as thoroughly as possible, divided into sections detailing the various features.

Supplies

254 resource cards (21 types)

120 animal cards (12 types)

The Kongs

Each of the 4 playable Kongs has certain advantages and disadvantages, so you can try to pick one that best suits your playstyle – or just whichever Kong you're a fan of. There are 4 major characteristics that each Kong is good or bad at: speed, money, inventory, and lives.

	Speed Die used for movement	Money Recieved when passing Start space	Inventory Max size, including cards and tokens	Lives Starting amount, but can gain more
Kiddy	8 Bad	$315 OK	30 Good	8 Great
Donkey	10 OK	$375 Good	45 Great	3 Bad
Dixie	12 Good	$450 Great	20 Bad	4 OK
Diddy	20 Great	$110 Bad	25 OK	5 Good

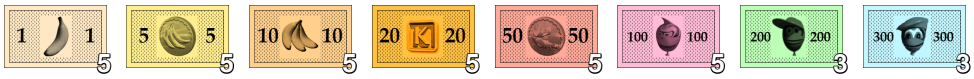
Getting Started

1 Make sure that you have all of the game supplies, and sort all types of cards, tokens, and bills into their own piles.
Bonus barrel, Funky's Flights, and Bazaar's General Store cards should be face down and shuffled.

2 Each player receives a level checklist, listing each of the 118 levels, the resources required in order to build them, and their secret difficulty.
The page also includes a wish list where you can conveniently mark down any cards that you're hoping to try and get soon. (More details on page 5)

3 Each player selects a Kong character piece. (Details about the Kongs on page 2) Place each player's piece on the Start space.

4 Each player receives a total of $2430 in starting cash:



5 Decide which player will go first, give that player the checkpoint barrel (marks whose turn it currently is), and begin the gameplay sequence.

Gameplay Sequence

1 On your turn, first roll your Kong's movement die and move your piece forward that many spaces.
If there is a split in the path, choose either direction. You can only move along the path in the direction of the arrows.

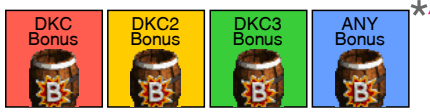
2 If you don't like the space you land on, you can spend a golden feather token to change the number of spaces you move by –2, –1, +1, or +2, but only if you didn't land on a Lose a Life space.

3 If you pass or land on the Start space, receive an amount of money depending on your Kong.

4 Do something according to what kind of space you landed on:

From the supply, collect a card for each animal, environment, and resource listed on the space.

Collect a token of the shown type from the supply.



*^ Draw a bonus barrel card according to the color of the space.
This will cause something good or bad to happen to you or other players.

* Draw 3 Funky's Flights cards, which have the names of worlds on them. You can fly to any space in one of these 3 drawn worlds for free, or fly to any space in any other world you want for $100. But, once you've reached the space, the space's effects don't apply.

* Draw 6 Bazaar's General Store cards, which have animals, environments, or resources on them.
You can do many various things at Bazaar's store:

- Buy any of the drawn animal, environment, or resource cards for their listed price.
  You can buy as many copies as you want, except you have to leave at least one left in the supply for each other player.
- Sell any animal, environment, or resource cards you have for their listed price.
- Trade with other players, either for cards, money, tokens, or a combination.
  Other players cannot trade with each other on your turn, only with you.

* For each of these spaces, afterwards, put the card(s) you've drawn face-up in the appropriate discard pile.
Once there are no more cards left to draw from a pile, shuffle its discard pile to re-use.

^ For any bonus-related die rolls you perform, you can spend one banana bird per roll to change your rolled value by -1 or +1.

Play a Swanky minigame for a chance to get some cash. Roll the black die to determine which game will be played:

1 or 2: Head to Head
You and the player to your left both roll the black die.^ The player with the lower number has to pay the opponent $50 times the difference between the rolls. (If they cannot pay in full, the remainder is paid from the bank.) If it's a tie, keep rolling.

3 or 4: Endurance
Pay $100 to the bank to play. (If you don't have enough, you can't play.)
Keep rolling the black die until you get a 1.^ Win $25 per time you didn't roll 1.

5 or 6: Swanky Lottery
Pay $100 to the bank to play. (If you don't have enough, you can't play.)
Roll the red, green, and blue dice.^ Win the product of the 3 rolls.

This is where you can buy "tips" on how to "find all of the secrets" in levels. This is how to get the "!" for levels which you missed when you first built them. Cranky only provides tips on levels in his current world; for example, the only place to get tips for Jungle Hijinxs or the other Kongo Jungle levels is at the Cranky's Cabin space in Kongo Jungle. You can buy as many tips for that world's levels as you want. To buy a tip for a level, you need to have already built that level but not gotten "!" for it. Each level's tip costs $100 times the level's secret difficulty number. When you buy a tip, you can immediately mark the "!" for that level on the checklist, to the left of its secret difficulty number. Finally, on this space, you can also give Cranky 1 golden feather (return it to the supply) to receive 1 extra life.

This is where you can "save your game" to protect against losing levels from a game over. When you arrive at a save cave, put a 2nd check mark next to each level that you've built before arriving here. Levels with 2 check marks cannot be lost due to losing all of your lives. Finally, on this space, you can also give Wrinkly 1 camera piece or 1 banana bird (return it to the supply) to receive 1 extra life.

Lose 1 of your lives. (Keep track of your number of lives on the level checklist.) If you are now at 0 lives, you must un-check all non-double-checked levels that you've built. You lose all "!" for these levels, as well. Then, reset your lives back to your Kong's starting life count.

You can only enter a final boss space if you have every level checked off in that boss's game (all DKC levels for Gang-Plank Galleon, all DKC2 levels for Krocodile Kore, all DKC3 levels for Knautilus). They don't need to be double-checked, though, and getting all "!" is not necessary to enter. ("!" is only necessary to reach 306% complete.) Once you're on the space, you must fight K. Rool. Keep repeatedly rolling the black die until you either get a 1 or 6.^ On a 1, lose a life and end your turn. On a 6, you win the fight and can check off that boss level on your level checklist. These levels can still be lost to a game over, so be sure to go to Wrinkly and double-check them to be safe.

You can only enter the finish space when you have all 118 levels on your level checklist checked off, and have achieved "!" for all of them. You also have to have checked off all 3 boss levels. Nothing needs to be double-checked, though. When you arrive here, you win the game! The other players can decide if they want to stop, or keep playing to see who finishes 2nd or 3rd (in that case, you are removed from the game; return your cards, money, and tokens to the supply).

5 After taking the appropriate action for your space, you can choose to do either of these things, in any order, as many times as you want:

- Spend a camera piece to copy 1 animal, environment, or resource card of your own, or copy one from another player. Take a new one from the supply, not from anyone's inventory.
- Build a level. This is what you'll be working towards during the entire game. Levels do not have to be built in any particular order. In order to build a level, you have to have each of its required cards, listed next to it on the level checklist. For example, to build Jungle Hijinxs, you have to have a Jungle card, a Balloons card, and a Rambi card, and then return them to the supply and check Jungle Hijinxs off on your list. In order to get 306% complete, you also have to have "found all of the secrets" in each level. In this board game, whether or not you happen to find all of the secrets in a level when you first complete it is determined randomly. When you build a level, roll the black die.^ If your roll's value is equal to or higher than the level's "secret difficulty" (indicated by the number to the left of the level's name), then you "find all of the secrets" in the level, and mark that on the checklist with an "!" in the box to the left of the secret difficulty number. This means that you will always get "!" for levels with a secret difficulty number of 1, and never get "!" for those with 7. If you don't get "!" on your first try, then you'll have to head to the Cranky's Cabin of that world to get the "!" later on.

6 If your combined number of cards and tokens is over your Kong's maximum inventory size (depends on your Kong), then you must now get rid of some until you're down to the maximum. (If you want, you're free to get rid of stuff below the maximum, too.)

^ For any of these die rolls you perform, you can spend one banana bird per roll to change your rolled value by -1 or +1.

7 Collect $20 for each token (camera piece, golden feather, or banana bird) that you still have in your inventory.

8 Finally, pass the checkpoint barrel to the next player (to your left), and they begin their turn.

Level Checklist

Your level checklist is an essential tool for indicating how much you've progressed, seeing what levels you can build, and planning out your future strategy. Here's an example of what your level checklist might look like partway through the game:

Back

When you build all the levels in a world, you can check off the world's box.

A convenient way to write each level's status is to put its number first (order built), then a check mark if it has been saved at Wrinkly's, then "!" if you have found its secrets. Alternatively, you can omit the number and use another check mark instead.

This list is just for your convenience. If there happen to be any levels that you have almost all the cards for, you can write those last few cards you're seeking here, as a reminder. For example, if you have a Factory and a Squitter card, then you're one away from building either of these levels. Or, if you have a Cliffs and a Ropes card, then you're one away from building either of these levels. In these cases, you could write in the wish list as shown, and then erase those rows as soon as you get the cards you want.*

Other Important Notes

- Gang-Plank Galleon, Krocodile Kore, Knautilus, “306% complete,” and the starting Wrinkly’s Save Cave are not located in any world.
- Gang-Plank Galleon, Krocodile Kore, Knautilus, and “306% complete” are landed on whenever they are reached; the exact number from a dice roll is not needed to land on them.
- Players are never forced out of the game. But, if someone wants to quit, they should remove their player piece and return all of their money, cards, and tokens to the supply.
- Loaning and owing money are not allowed, including both from other players and from the bank. You are not allowed to make a purchase if doing so will cause you to have less than $0.
- Trading cards, money, or tokens is not allowed except for with a player who has just landed on a Bazaar’s General Store.
- Trading levels, checking off levels without the correct cards and money, or unchecking levels unless required to do so by a bonus card or getting a game over, are never allowed.
- If the bank does not have any more money, simply do not take money when certain spaces or cards instruct you to. If you are told to receive money but there is not the correct kind of bill to do so, round down.
- If you are instructed to receive a certain card of which there are none left in the supply, instead receive money equal to that card’s printed cash value.
- If you are instructed to receive a certain token of which there are none left in the supply, instead receive $50.
- If you are numbering levels on your level checklist (according to what order you built them), then you don’t need to write the first check mark, since the number already indicates that the level was built. But, if you don’t number your levels, then you do need the first check mark. The level checklist example shown on the previous page uses the first of these two options.
- If you are numbering levels on your level checklist, and you draw the ANY bonus barrel card that forces you to destroy a level, there’s no need to re-number every level in the list. A more convenient method is to put a certain note by the next level you build. For example, if you have 58 levels and you choose to destroy level 23, then you could write the next level you build as “58b.” Or, you could write the next level you build as “23,” but this gives an inaccurate representation of the order in which you built your levels.
